Each year, the Global Livingston Institute (GLI) brings students, community leaders, friends, and family together to celebrate the innovative and exciting ways in which people are listening, thinking, and acting in the United States, East Africa, and beyond!

In spite of the global pandemic, the GLI continued to Listen. Think. Act. by:

- Engaging more than 300 students in our virtual global classroom programs in collaboration with our 30 academic partners.
- Providing over 1,500 individuals in Uganda with access to HIV testing and treatment.
- Reaching 1 million individuals with HIV awareness messaging at our virtual World AIDS Day concert.
- Recycling 1 metric ton of plastic from the environment each month at our recycling centers in southern and northern Uganda.
- Engaging nearly 500 women in our farming initiatives in northern Uganda.
- Creating a virtual event series to bring together a supportive global community of 350 women from the US and East Africa.
